CLEVELAND – The Rock & Roll Hall of Fame is closing out its 2020 Rock Hall Live! season with two incredible Live & Local showcases spotlighting its talented Resident Rockers Siena Bella and Jack Harris, and 2020 High School Rock Off winners Detention and The Autumn Dogs.

The showcases spotlight the Rock Hall's commitment to promoting local musicians, inspiring new musical passions and growing the influence of contemporary music in Northeast Ohio. Throughout August and September, the Live & Local Series featured homegrown talent on its plaza with free concerts on Thursday and Saturday nights.

The series wraps up on Thursday, October 1 with 2020 High School Rock Off winners Detention and The Autumn Dogs and Saturday, October 3rd with Resident Rockers Siena Bella and Jack Harris. The Rock Hall's food and beverage trucks will be open with socially distanced outdoor seating.

In its inaugural year, the Rock Hall's Resident Rocker program, presented by the Kulas Foundation, provides emerging Northeast Ohio artists with the opportunity to advance their careers, learn about the music industry, and regularly perform live sets on the Rock Hall's outdoor stage. This summer, 2020 Resident Rocker Jack Harris, a self-taught acoustic artist whose been featured at venues from The House of Blues to The Beachland Ballroom, wrote and released his newest song "For The Night" which features Siena Bella. Bella, who has performed at venues around town such as the Agora and Wolstein Center where she opened for Machine Gun Kelly, worked on original songs and showcased her range of talents with various cover hits. Both Harris and Bella will perform new material they worked on throughout the summer, fan favorites, and Harris' new release.

The High School Rock Off showcase features Detention, the four-piece powerhouse pop punk band representing Firestone, Highland Middle and STEM Middle, who captured first place, accolades from judges and newly found fans now known as "Detainee's" at the 2020 High School Rock Off Powered by PNC earlier this year. Opening is third place winners The Autumn Dogs, comprised of high schoolers from Kirtland, Lake Catholic, and Willoughby South.
